

Mark Twain on the Internet

THE MARK TWAIN FORUM

The Mark Twain Forum is for persons having a scholarly interest in the life and writings of Mark Twain. Postings may include book reviews, queries, conference announcements, calls for papers, information on new publications, or anything else that is related to Mark Twain studies. The Mark Twain Forum serves as an excellent vehicle for current, informal discussion among international Twain scholars.

The Mark Twain Forum, founded in 1992 by Taylor Roberts, has since grown to over 400 subscribers in dozens of countries. Like all such electronic discussion lists, there is no charge for subscribing.

To subscribe to the Mark Twain Forum, send an e-mail to:

listserv@yorku.ca

with a message body (not subject) that reads:

SUBSCRIBE TWAIN-L Your Full Name

(Enter your own name as you wish it recorded)

For example:

SUBSCRIBE TWAIN-L Mulberry Sellers

You will then be added as a subscriber and will begin to receive postings immediately (i.e., whenever another subscriber sends a message for redistribution).

Messages posted to the Forum are automatically archived and these log files are searchable. These files are a useful resource for research and to find out if a subject has been previously discussed. All postings from the inception of the Forum to the present, as well as book reviews, photographs, and other information about Mark Twain are available on the TwainWeb, the Mark Twain Forum's Web site:

www.yorku.ca/twainweb

Instructions on how to use these facilities—and also how to post your own messages to the Forum—will be sent to you shortly after you subscribe. The Survival Guide, which also contains information on obtaining electronic texts of Mark Twain's works, is available at any time at the TwainWeb.

"Snail-mail" or e-mail correspondence may be sent to the List Administrator, who will be happy to answer questions regarding the Mark Twain Forum:
